

ARTS IMPACT LESSON PLAN

Dance and Writing Infused Lesson

Lesson One: Verbs – Dancing Actions

Author: Debbie Gilbert Grade Level: Kindergarten

Enduring Understanding

Movements and verbs communicate action.

Lesson Description (Use for family communication and displaying student art)

Students learn and explore these dance concepts: self-space (dancing in one spot), general space (traveling), and shape (freezing like a statue). They discover how verbs describe the actions that dancers do. They generate ideas by brainstorming a list of verbs – action words. They organize their ideas and make choices to create and perform a Verb Dance, alternating two verbs, and beginning and ending the dance with a shape. Finally, they reflect by using words to describe the dance.

Learning Targets and Assessment Criteria

Target: Moves in self-space and general space.

Criteria: Performs actions in one spot and actions through the room.

Target: Makes shapes.

Criteria: Freezes in a statue-like form.

Target: Performs a verb dance.

Criteria: Dances action words in this sequence: general space movement, self-space movement, repeats general space movement, and repeats self-space movement. Freezes in a shape at the beginning and the end of the dance.

Pre-Teach

This lesson is the first lesson in a series of three writing infused lessons.

Lesson Steps Outline

1. Prepare students for exploring the language of dance and literacy. Display lesson criteria.
2. Ready students for dancing by creating agreements/rules for dance behavior. Chart student response.
3. Lead students in BrainDance warm-up.
Music: "Language of Dance BrainDance K/1" #1, Writing Dances by Debbie Gilbert.
4. Introduce the dance concepts of self-space, general space, and shape. Display dance word signs for concepts. Demonstrate the concepts. Direct Move and Freeze. Use verbs to describe the movements.
 Criteria-based teacher checklist: Performs actions in one spot, actions through the room, and freezes in a statue-like form.
5. Brainstorm a list of verbs to dance in self-space and in general space. Display photos of professional dancers. Chart student response.
6. Lead a body brainstorm movement exploration of verbs. Call out general space and self-space words from the verb list. Play the shaker and/or drum for students to dance each word and cue students to freeze by stopping the sound.
 Criteria-based process assessment, self-assessment: Performs actions in one spot, actions through the room, and freezes in a statue-like form.

7. Guide students in the choreography and rehearsal of the Verb Dance.
Music: "Verb Dance" #2, Writing Dances by Debbie Gilbert.

Criteria-based teacher checklist: Dances action words in this sequence: general space movement, self-space movement, repeats general space movement, and repeats self-space movement. Freezes in a shape at the beginning and the end of the dance.

8. Lead students through a performance of the Verb Dance followed by a responding process. Ask half the class to perform the Verb Dance and half to be the audience, then they will switch roles. Discuss performer and audience behavior.

Criteria-based teacher checklist, self and peer assessment: Dances action words in this sequence: general space movement, self-space movement, repeats general space movement, and repeats self-space movement. Freezes in a shape at the beginning and the end of the dance.

LESSON STEPS

1. Prepare students for exploring the language of dance and literacy. Display lesson criteria.

- We are about to begin a great adventure. We'll be learning the language of dance and also exploring how writers use words. So we'll be dancers and writers at the same time.
 - Every time we dance, you'll learn new dance words that dancers use to make their dances, and also words that will make you a better writer.
 - We'll put our ideas together, organize them into dances, and then talk about what we have created.
 - Today, we will learn the dance words: self-space, general space, and shape. We'll make a list of action words and create a verb dance.

2. Ready students for dancing by creating agreements/rules for dance behavior. Chart student response.

- Before we begin dancing, I have a question for you. How can you be creative and safe at the same time?

3. Lead students in BrainDance warm-up. (BrainDance originally developed by Anne Green Gilbert, www.creativedance.org, reference: Brain-Compatible Dance Education, video: BrainDance, Variations for Infants through Seniors.)

Music: "Language of Dance BrainDance K/1" #1, Writing Dances by Debbie Gilbert.

- The BrainDance is designed to warm up your body and make your brain work better at the same time.
- Shape is an important dance word that we will use in the BrainDance. At the end of the BrainDance, I'll ask you where we made shapes in our warm-up.

Breath

- Your muscles and your brain need oxygen, so slowly inhale through your nose and slowly exhale through your mouth.

Tactile

- Slowly brush your arms. Slowly brush your legs.
- Quickly tap from the top of your head all the way to your toes.

Core-Distal

- Smoothly grow into a big shape. Smoothly shrink into a small shape. Smoothly grow into a big shape. Smoothly shrink into a small shape.
- Sharp, big shape. Sharp, small shape. Sharp, big shape. Sharp, small shape.

Head-Tail

- Smoothly curl forwards and backwards and forwards and backwards.

- Smoothly curve from side to side.

Upper Half and Lower Half

- The top half of your body is in motion, while the lower half is frozen. Move big. Move small. Move high. Move low. Move fast. Move slowly.
- The lower half of your body is in motion, while the upper half is frozen. Move big. Move small. Move high. Move low. Move fast. Move slowly.

Body-Half Right and Left

- Your left side is frozen and only the right side dances. Move big. Move small. Move high. Move low. Move fast. Move slowly.
- Now the right side is frozen and the left half dances. Move big. Move small. Move high. Move low. Move fast. Move slowly.

Eye-Tracking

- Keep your eyes on your right thumb. Smoothly move it from one side to the other. Watch your left thumb as you smoothly move it from side to side.
- Watch your right thumb as you smoothly move it up and down. Watch your left thumb as you smoothly move it up and down.

Cross-Lateral

- Use your hands to draw lines crossing in front of your body. Reach across up high, up high, down low, down low. Up high, up high, down low, down low. Up high, up high, down low, down low. Up high, up high, down low, down low.

Spin/Vestibular

- Glue your arms to your sides. Slow turn. High shape. Slow turn. Low shape. Fast turn. High shape. Fast turn. Low shape.

Breath

- Inhale. Exhale.
- What shapes did you make in the BrainDance?

4. Introduce the dance concepts of self-space, general space, and shape. Display dance word signs for concepts. Demonstrate the concepts. Direct Move and Freeze. Use verbs to describe the movements.

Mini-lesson

 When assessing the criteria in this lesson, any students who are not meeting criteria will be very clear to you, so you may want to use a reverse checklist, putting a “0” where students have not met criteria, rather than trying to notate every single one who has met criteria. You can go back later and give those who have met criteria a “1.” This information will let you know who needs more practice to guide your future instruction.

- When dancers dance in self-space, they stay in one spot. When you did the BrainDance you stayed in one spot, so you did the BrainDance in self-space.

- In self-space, we can do movements like twist, shake, or reach. Those are verbs or action words. Dancers use verbs to tell you the actions they do in their dances.
- When dancers dance in general space, they travel. They dance in the empty space so they don't touch anyone or anything.
- In general space, we can do movements like walk, jump, or tiptoe. Those are more great action words.
- When you are frozen, like a statue, you are in a shape, like the shapes you made in the BrainDance. Notice when I make a shape, I am using my whole body – my arms, legs, head, and spine. My body is frozen; nothing is moving, except that I can breathe and blink.

▣ Play two percussion instruments, one for each type of space (e.g. self-space – shaker, general space – drum) to cue the students.

- When you hear the music, you move, and when it stops, you freeze in a shape.
- Do a self-space movement, stretch, to move in one spot. Freeze in a shape.
- Do a general space movement, walk, to travel through the empty space in the room. Freeze in a shape.

▣ Repeat with other movements in general space (e.g. jump, tiptoe) and self-space (e.g. shake, twist). Refer to locomotor and non-locomotor movement chart for additional suggestions.

☑ Criteria-based teacher checklist: Performs actions in one spot, actions through the room, and freezes in a statue-like form.

5. Brainstorm a list of verbs to dance in self-space and in general space. Display photos of professional dancers. Chart student response.

📖 Sharing professional work

▣ You may use these photos: Pacific Northwest Ballet: Kaori Nakamura in George Balanchine's Ballet Imperial, Kiyon Gaines in Jerome Robbins' West Side Story Suite, Jonathan Porretta in Jerome Robbins' Fancy Free. You could also choose to find your own photos that represent a variety of styles and cultures.

You could review, for example, The UW World Dance Series, <http://uwworldseries.org/world-dance>.

- Here are some photos of dancers from Pacific Northwest Ballet. Can you think of some action words to describe the actions the dancers are doing?

▣ When charting student response, make a column for self-space (non-locomotor) words and a column for general space (locomotor) words. Four to six words in each column will be enough.

- Let's make a list of verbs or action words. We are generating ideas for our dance.
- In one column, we'll list verbs we can dance in self-space.
- In the other column, we'll list verbs we can dance in general space.
- I'll write down the verbs that you used to describe the dancers' actions. What other verbs could we do?

6. Lead a body brainstorm movement exploration of verbs. Call out general space and self-space words from the verb list. Play the shaker and/or drum for students to dance each word and cue students to freeze by stopping the sound.

📖 Interpreting

▣ If the list is very long, select the words you feel would generate the most interesting movements.

- We did a brainstorm of words. Now we are going to do a brainstorm of movements to generate ideas for our actions in the dance. Dancers call that a body brainstorm.
- I'll call out a verb from either the self-space list or the general space list. When you hear the drum or shaker, dance that word using the right kind of space. Use your whole body!
- When the sound stops, freeze in a shape and ask yourself, "Did my movement really show the meaning of the verb?"

Criteria-based process assessment, self-assessment: Performs actions in one spot, actions through the room, and freezes in a statue-like form.

7. Guide students in the choreography and rehearsal of the Verb Dance.

Music: "Verb Dance" #2, Writing Dances by Debbie Gilbert.

📖 Guided writing, interpreting

▣ There will be verbal cues along with the music to cue when to make the shapes and when to dance the verbs. The music gives you eight counts for each verb.

- We are going to use the ideas we generated to create a verb dance.
- First, we'll choose a self-space verb and a general space verb.

☐ Write the two selected verbs for the dance on the board, organizing the dance in the following sequence:

1. shape (dancers can choose their own shapes)
2. general space verb
3. self-space verb
4. repeat general space verb
5. repeat self-space verb
6. shape (dancers choice)

- A choreographer is a person who creates a dance. We are going to be choreographers and create a verb dance.
- Our job is to choose which verbs we will have in our dance and organize them by putting them in order. We'll be organizing our ideas and making decisions. By doing so we are creating meaning as artists.
- Which general space verb should we do? Which self-space action word should we do?
- We'll start and end in shapes and you can choose your own shapes.
- Let's practice our shapes and movements.

☑ Criteria-based teacher checklist: Dances action words in this sequence: general space movement, self-space movement, repeats general space movement, and repeats self-space movement. Freezes in a shape at the beginning and the end of the dance.

8. Lead students through a performance of the Verb Dance followed by a responding process. Ask half the class to perform the Verb Dance and half to be the audience, then they will switch roles. Discuss performer and audience behavior.

📖 Sharing, observing, turn and talk, responding

- Performers, what do you want from your audience?
- Audience, what do you want from your performers?

☐ After the dance is performed, ask the following questions.

- Part of the artistic process is self-reflection. Dancers check in with each other and then refine their work.
- Turn and talk with a partner. Describe the movements that you saw. How could you tell which movements were in self-space and which were in general space? Describe the shapes that you observed.

☑ Criteria-based teacher checklist, self and peer assessment: Dances action words in this sequence: general space movement, self-space movement, repeats general space movement, and repeats self-space movement. Freezes in a shape at the beginning and the end of the dance.

ARTS AND WRITING LESSON: Verbs – Dancing Actions

Dear Family:

Today your child participated in an Arts and Writing lesson. We talked about learning the language of dance and also exploring how writers use language. We discovered how verbs describe the actions that dancers do.

- We did the BrainDance to warm-up our brains and our bodies.
- We learned and explored these dance concepts: self-space (dancing in one spot), general space (traveling), and shape (freezing like a statue).
- We generated ideas by brainstorming a list of verbs – action words.
- We organized our ideas and made choices to create a verb dance.
- We reflected upon our process by using words to describe our dance.

You could make a list of some of the verbs you do at home. Ask your child to show you how you could dance an action word.

Enduring Understanding

Movements and verbs communicate action.
